Compliance

This policy complies with the statutory requirement laid out in the SEND Code of Practice 0 – 25 (July 2014) and has been written with reference to the following guidance and documents:

- Equality Act 2010: advice for schools DfE Feb 2013
- SEND Code of Practice 0 – 25 (July 2014)
- Schools SEN Information Report Regulations (2014)
- Gloucestershire Guidance for Professionals Working with Children and Young People (0-25 yrs) with Additional Needs including Special Educational Needs and Disabilities.

Aims

Hopelands Preparatory School values the contribution that every child and young person can make and welcomes the diversity of culture, religion, and intellectual style. The school seeks to raise achievement, remove barriers to learning and increase physical and curricular access for all. All children and young people are valued, respected and equal members of the school.

As such, provision for children with SEN is a matter for the school. The Governing Body, Headteacher, SENCo, teachers, teaching assistants and all other members of staff have shared responsibilities in ensuring all children have access to the curriculum.

Objectives

1. To work within the guidance provide in the SEND Code of Practice, 2014
2. To identify barriers to learning and to provide appropriate support and differentiation and quality first teaching to meet a diversity of needs
3. To operate a “whole pupil, whole school” approach to the management and provision of support for special educational needs ensuring all pupils can access an appropriately differentiated curriculum.
4. To provide support and advice for all staff working with special educational needs pupils
5. To work in partnership with parents / carers in supporting their child’s education

6. To recognise, value and celebrate pupils' achievements, however small

Identifying Special Educational Needs

A pupil has SEN where their learning difficulty or disability calls for special educational provision, namely provision different from or additional to that normally available to pupils of the same age. (SEND Code of Practice 2014)

At Hopelands, we recognise the importance of early identification of SEN. Early intervention and response improve the long term outcomes for pupils. We informally assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment on entry, building on information from previous settings and key stages where appropriate. At the same time, we consider evidence that a pupil may have a disability under the Equality Act 2010 and, if so, what reasonable adjustments may need to be made for them.

Class teachers, supported by the SENCo and senior leadership team, make regular assessments of progress for all pupils. These identify pupils making less than expected progress given their age and individual circumstances. This can be characterised by progress which:

- is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline
- fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress
- fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers
- widens the attainment gap

This can include progress in areas other than attainment – for instance where a pupil needs to make additional progress with wider development or social needs to make a successful transition to adult life.

The first response to such progress should be high quality teaching targeted at their areas of weakness. Where progress continues to be less than expected the class teacher, working with the SENCo, will assess whether the child has SEN and the best possible approach to support.

Safeguarding

Hopelands School acknowledges that children with special educational needs and disabilities (SEN/D) can face additional safeguarding challenges as they may have impaired capacity to resist to avoid abuse and therefore be more vulnerable. They may have speech, language and communication needs which may make it difficult to tell others what is happening.

Hopelands School will ensure that children with SEN and disabilities specifically, those with communication difficulties, will be supported to ensure that their voice is heard and acted upon.

Members of staff are encouraged to be aware that children with SEN and disabilities can be disproportionately impacted by safeguarding concerns such as bullying. All members of staff will be encouraged to appropriately explore possible indicators of abuse such as behaviour/mood change or injuries and not assume that they are related to the child's disability and be aware that children with SEN and disabilities may not always outwardly display indicators of abuse.

Broad Areas of Need

Communication and interaction

Children and young people with speech, language and communication needs (SLCN) have difficulty in communicating with others. Children and young people with ASD, including Asperger's Syndrome and Autism, are likely to have difficulties with social interaction.

Cognition and learning

Support for learning difficulties may be required when children and young people learn at a slower pace than their peers, even with appropriate differentiation.

Social, emotional and mental health difficulties

Children and young people may experience a wide range of social and emotional difficulties which manifest themselves in many ways. These may include becoming withdrawn or isolated, as well as displaying challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour. Other children may have disorders such as attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder.

Sensory and/or physical needs

Some children and young people require special educational provision because they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the educational facilities generally provided.

It should be noted that the following criteria are not SEN, but have an impact on progress and attainment:

- Disability (the Code of Practice outlines the 'reasonable adjustment' duty for all settings and school provided under current Disability Equality legislation – these alone do not constitute SEN)
- Attendance and Punctuality
- Health and Welfare
- EAL
- Being in receipt of Pupil Premium Grant
- Being a Looked After Child
- Being a child of Serviceman/woman

A Graduated Approach to SEN Support

At Hopelands School we support a graduated approach to both recording and monitoring progress of children and young people with SEN and/or disabilities so that knowledge and understanding of what is working and not working to help a child is gathered and built upon. This information also helps to inform other agencies when additional input is required from them.

All teachers at Hopelands Preparatory school are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of the pupils in their class, including where pupils access support from teaching assistants or specialist staff.

The Code of Practice is clear in stressing that special educational provision is underpinned by high quality teaching. Personalised and differentiated approaches are available to all children at Hopelands School and those with special educational needs will also benefit from these approaches. These are referred to as Universal approaches throughout the document. For some children, these approaches will not be sufficient to meet their special educational needs and they will require more focussed and targeted support and intervention. These are referred to as Targeted approaches. Relatively few children will need a much higher level of support and intervention. These are referred to as Specialist approaches.

Provision at a Targeted or Specialist level for children who have been identified as having special educational needs should not be a substitute for high quality teaching.

We follow the Assess, Plan, Do, Review cycle as described in the SEND identification flow chart in Appendix 1.

EHCP – Statutory Assessment of Needs

Where, despite the school having taken relevant and purposeful action to identify, assess and meet the Special Educational Needs and/or Disabilities of the pupil, the child has not made expected progress, the school or parents/carers should consider requesting an Education, Health and Care (EHC) Plan. The evidence gathered through the regular review of interventions will help the Local Authority (LA) in determining when this statutory assessment of needs is required. Where a pupil has an Education Health and Care Plan (EHCP), the Local Authority must review the plan every twelve months as a minimum. We as a school have a duty to co-operate so that we hold the annual review meetings as and when due and complete the appropriate paperwork for this process.

Managing Pupils Needs on the SEN Register

See the Monitoring Flow chart in Appendix 2

Criteria for Exiting the SEN Register

See the Monitoring Flow chart in Appendix 2

Admission arrangements – see Admissions Policy

For access to exams the relevant teacher, in conjunction with the SENCo, follow current guidelines from the appropriate exam bodies.

Transition meetings are held at the end of each academic year within the school following the completion by the existing Classteacher of the Transition Report on needs and concerns.

The school has established and will maintain links with the secondary schools in the area with the Year 6 teacher / SENCo communicating with the respective Year 7 teachers as appropriate to discuss and facilitate children's smooth transition.

The EYFS staff and the SENCo work closely with staff at the feeder pre-schools to ensure that, should it be required, provision for additional needs are set in place ready for any child to start school.

When a child joins Hopelands from another primary school the school office will request transfer details for that child. Any child who is already on the SEN register will continue to be supported in accordance with the previous school's advice until such time as this can be reviewed. When appropriate, the class teacher and/or the SENCo will make contact with the child's previous school in order to meet the child's needs.

Supporting Pupils at School with Medical Conditions

The school recognises that pupils at school with medical conditions should be properly supported so that they have full access to education, including school trips and physical education. Some children with medical conditions may be disabled and where this is the case the school will comply with its duties under the Equality Act 2010.

Some may also have special educational needs (SEN) and may have a statement, or Education, Health and Care (EHC) plan which brings together health and social care needs, as well as their special educational provision and the SEND Code of Practice (2014) is followed.

At Hopelands School, pupils with medical needs have an individual Care Plan which is kept in the School Office.

Monitoring and Evaluation of SEND

Training and Resources

The SENCo attends training courses where appropriate. The school has a programme for all staff, which includes the identification of training needs. Staff attend training organised by the LA and other external agencies such as partnership groups.
