Year 3

Year 3 have been making Canopic Jars to keep their mummified lungs, livers, stomachs and intestines in. Well, they would have if they lived in Ancient Egypt! For now, mummified tomatoes will have to suffice.

Book in a Jar Competition

For World Book Day a competition was set to recreate a book in a jar. The entries were outstanding, and Miss O'Neill and Miss Porter had a tough time choosing the winners. Well done to Holly, Neve, Nadia, Eva, Rowan and Jackson!

International Women's Day

Today, to celebrate International Women's Day, we were visited by Zoe Aldcroft. She represents England women's national rugby team internationally and made her debut in 2016 against France.

Zoe began the day with a fascinating insight into how she started playing rugby and her career so far. The children asked great questions and were inspired by her true tenacity and determination. Afterwards she joined our PE teacher, Mr Stratford, and held rugby masterclass sessions with all the children. Thank you Zoe!
